Questions 29 – 34 are based on the following passage.

STRANGE MARRIAGE CUSTOMS

Have you ever witnessed a wedding ceremony of another race? If you have, you will realise that it is not the same as that of your own race. Every race has its own particular marriage custom.

A good example is the Bugis tribe in Celebes, Indonesia. This Muslim tribe treats their daughters' marriage as the most significant affair in their lives and the wedding ceremony usually lasts for three days. Within this time, the bride must not raise her eyes or look at the bridegroom or even set foot on the ground at all. This is a very difficult task so to make things easier for everyone concerned, the bride is given a drug to make her unconscious. Then for the three whole days of the ceremony the unconscious bride is carried about on the shoulders of her father or other heads of her family. When the bride finally wakes up, she is already married.

Another example is a tribe in Africa. They have another strange marriage custom. Before the wedding ceremony, the bridegroom will practise kicking against a tree. What is he preparing for? Well, at the end of the wedding he has to give his wife a hard kick on the shins. Only then will their marriage be valid.

- 29 How long does the wedding ceremony of Bugis in Celebes usually last?
- A More than three days.
 - B Less than three days.
 - C Three days.
 - D Two days.
- 30 The word significant can best be replaced with
- A important.
 - B irrelevant.
 - C incredible.
 - D irreplaceable

- 31 Which of the following statements is true about the bride of the Bugis tribe?
The bride is
- A awake all through her wedding.
 - B allowed to see the bridegroom on her wedding day.
 - C forbidden to stand on land until the wedding is over.
 - D carried on the bridegroom's shoulders during the wedding.
- 32 The bridegroom from an African tribe must practise kicking _____ before the wedding.
- A his bride
 - B himself
 - C a head
 - D a tree
- 33 Why does the bridegroom in an African tribe kick his bride?
- A He hates his new bride.
 - B To cancel the marriage.
 - C To validate the marriage.
 - D Someone told him to do it.
- 34 According to the passage, we know that
- A a wedding ceremony in an African tribe can last for a week.
 - B the bridegroom of a Bugis tribe must kick his bride.
 - C each race has their unique marriage custom.
 - D all wedding ceremony are the same.

Questions 35 – 37

Read the poem below carefully and answer the questions that follow.

The Lake Isle of Innisfree

I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made.
Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for the honey bee
And live alone in the bee-loud glade.

And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow,
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket
sings;
There midnight's all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow
And evening full of the linnet's wings

I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements grey
I hear it in the deep heart's core.

By William Butler Yeats

- 35 The persona will live with _____ in Innisfree.
- A his animals
 - B his friends
 - C his family
 - D no one
- 36 What will the persona hear in the morning in Innisfree?
- A Lake water lapping
 - B Crickets
 - C Linnets
 - D Bees
- 37 Based on the poem, the persona may be described as someone who
- A likes daydreaming.
 - B loves gardening.
 - C likes animals.
 - D loves nature.

Questions 38 – 40 are based on the extract from the short story Of Bunga Telur and Bally Shoes.

“They’re beautiful Mal,” said Lan. “Truly you’re a lucky man. I would give anything to own this masterpiece in leather. If I were given the chance to have three wishes, I would say this: one, a beautiful fiancée like yours, two, a brain like yours and three, to be shod in this exquisitely stitched-up leather, lovingly crafted by the French, called Bally shoes!” Signals were coming fast from Cousin Lan.

“Well Lan, what’s stopping you? You could have them for RM430.00,” offered Jamal. “I’m serious”.

Cousin Lan demurred, but his need to possess the Bally shoes were too overpowering to hide. It showed in his very demeanour. Much fingering and crooning later, Cousin Lan finally ventured, “How much? Not too much you know, Mal, I’m not awash with pitis,” Cousin Lan tried to bargain.

“RM430.00 only,” said Jamal. “Special cut-rate price for you, Lan!” Cousin Lan pretended to be aggrieved. Secretly, though, he was not. The last time he checked out the price of Bally shoes in Lot 10 in Kuala Lumpur, it cost well above RM800.00. A chance of a life time for Cousin Lan! But Cousin Lan, as was his wont, was not averse to a little hard bargaining.

38 Which of the following statements is true about the Bally shoes? It is

- A worthless
- B imported
- C inexpensive
- D locally made

39 The phrase “Special cut-rate price” in the extract means

- A a sale
- B a discount
- C a promotion
- D an advertisement

40 From the extract above, we can conclude that Cousin Lan is

- A wealthy
- B stylish
- C selfish
- D kind
